Dietary Restrictions Notice

Vegan

All our beers are vegan friendly except for our Honey Raspberry Wheat since it includes honey. The main reason why some beers may not be vegan friendly is the fining agents used in the brewing/fermentation process. Our brewing process does not contain any fining agents from animal products.

Lactose Allergies

We do not currently have any beers that contain lactose or mild products nor does any of our equipment come in contact with anything containing lactose.

Gluten Allergies

Barley and wheat contain many of the same irritants/allergens that may cause issues for those sensitive to gluten. All of our beers are brewed with barley and should be avoided by those with gluten allergies.

Note on Honey Malt

The name is misleading as the malt does not contain honey. The way the barley is malted gives it a "sweet like honey" flavor, but does not contain honey from bees.
